About Me

I'm finishing my web development studies at the Reykjavík Academy of Web Development and will graduate in August 2025. I really enjoy making websites that are easy to use and look good, especially on the frontend where design and how things work come together.

Outside of coding, I enjoy traveling, discovering good red wines, going on outdoor adventures, and gaming with friends. I'm always excited to learn new things and enjoy working with others to make creative ideas happen.

Career Goals

My goal is to learn and grow through projects. I love learning new things, acquiring new skills, working on creative projects, and collaborating with people. My long-term goal is to start my own business. I'm also open to living and working abroad in the future to gain new life experiences and broaden my perspective.

Technologies I've Worked With

- Programming Languages: JavaScript, TypeScript, HTML, CSS
- Frameworks and Libraries: Next.js, Angular, React, Tailwind CSS, Angular Material, RxJS, Animate.css, Framer Motion (interested in learning more)
- Tools and Platforms: Git, Figma, Firebase, Supabase, Vercel, MongoDB (basic understanding)
- Other Skills: Payload, Contentful, Prismic (basic understanding), fast learner, strong teamwork skills, excellent communication, and keen eye for design
